

See our Christmas Cards

SINCLAIR

GOLDENACRE POST OFFICE

The greatest selection in North Edinburgh

Bulb Bowls, Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils,
Pot Plants.

RENNIE
NURSERIES
LTD.

EAST TRINITY ROAD

Telephone GRA 3916

PROGRAMME

THE HONOURS
OF DRUMLIE

By JAMES SCOTLAND

DECEMBER 1963

THREEPENCE

KIRKGATE
CHURCH
DRAMATIC SOCIETY

ST.
SERF'S
CHURCH
PLAYERS

The Honours of Drumlie

BY JAMES SCOTLAND

Elsbeth, Provost Gow's servant lass	Jean Maclean
Smoking Meg, a tinker	Primrose McCollm
Mrs Agnes Gow, the Provost's wife	Diana Johnston
Kirsty, her younger daughter	Sheila Findlay
Janet, her elder daughter	Trudy Alexander
Tam Ewing, the Town Clerk's son	Alex Purves
Grizel Cunningham, the Schoolmistress	Jean Redman
Eppie Dalgleish, the Minister's sister	Helen Wilson
Andrew Gow, Provost of Drumlie	Jim Mackie
Rev. Hosea Dalgleish, Minister of Drumlie ..	John Joss
Geordie Ewing, Town Clerk of Drumlie	John McKinnon
Lt. André Mathieu, of 3rd Jacobite Horse ..	Norman Anderson
Sgt. Alexander Nicholson, of the same Regt.	Alistair Grant
Col. Simon Stuart, Chevalier d'Auteuil
Commander of 3rd Jacobite Horse	Andrew Spiers
Lt. Ronald Fraser, of the same Regiment ..	Bill Penman

THE PLAY DIRECTED BY J. H. ALEXANDER

The scene is the front room in the house of Andrew Gow, Provost of Drumlie, a Border town. The action of the play passes between four o'clock in the afternoon of the Second of January, 1746, and ten o'clock the following morning.

The Acts are timed as follows :—

ACT I

Late Afternoon

ACT II

Scene I Continuous with Act I

ii Late that Night

ACT III

Early the Following Morning

There will be an interval of twelve minutes between each Act.

Stage Director—Lyall Mackie

Stage Manager—Derek Blackwood

Wardrobe Mistress—Bobby Watt

Properties—Sheena Brown

Continuity—Nancy Redman

Lighting—Bill King, Jim Bennett

Business Manager—Andrew Moodie

Set Constructed by—William Bald, Bert Falconer, Alfred Howden, Andrew Johnston, Jack McDonald, David Stark

Glassware kindly loaned by
Messrs KING FISHER (WINES) LTD., 266 LEITH WALK, LEITH